

3rd International Conference on Nuclear Photonics (NP2020)

Third Circular

New Schedule: June 7-11, 2021, ONLINE

Early-bird registration deadline: March 31 Wed 2021

Abstract submission closes on January 12 Tue 2021

Considering the situation of COVID-19, the Local Committee has decided to hold the NP2020 ONLINE on 7-11 June 2021, when we keep to use the title NP“2020”, as the Tokyo Olympic 2020.

We aim to maintain the scientific program as much as possible.

Keynote and Invited Speakers can keep their slot and will be given an opportunity to update their abstracts.

On the other hand, we foresee a call for new contributions.

The registration page for authors of oral or poster presentations is now re-open for submitting a new abstract.

We hope you will understand our decision, considering the exceptionality of the situation.

We thank you for your continued support and understanding in these difficult times.

The Organizing Committee of NP2020

Message from the Local Chairs

We gratefully appreciate your supports and contributions to the NP2020conference, under the situation all over the world.

We guess you are worried about the large difference of time zone, which makes the attendance of participants of Asia, the US, and Europe at the same time quite challenging.

Now, we are building a new system that will allow to participate via MOVIE recording. Of course, Plenary talks will be held via LIVE streaming. On the other hand, speakers of Invited and Oral presentations can choose to give live streaming or movie recording.

To activate discussions on the movie presentations, we prepare a "chat" window for each presentation. The movie presentations will be available through the conference week. At the same time, each movie file will be appropriately protected on our server system to prevent unauthorized downloading. We encourage participants to choose the movie system as a new style of international conference.

Please indicate your choice "LIVE" or "MOVIE" in the comment box on the Abstract Submission page.

We hope you will understand our decision, considering the exceptionality of the situation. We thank you for your continued support and understanding in these difficult times.

Sincerely Yours

The Local Chairs of NP2020

The web site has been renewed for the ONLINE conference.

Note the registration system has been reformed completely.

Please register and submit your abstract AGAIN on the site below, even though you have already done on the previous system.
